COURT ORDER
PUTS BAN ON
MOVIE TRUSTPRICE FIXING AND
BLOCK BOOKING
CONDEMNED

By MORGAN REYNOLDS

Washington, May 4 (P)—The movie industry's big five wrestled with a new script today — an order from the supreme court to get out of the super-colossal class.

The tribunal ruled yesterday that the five companies violated anti-trust laws through price-fixing and film distribution agreements. It also told lower courts to go ahead with new proceedings to determine whether the movie concerns must sell their interest in 13,377 theaters.

At the same time the high court set the stage for damage claims by independent theater owners which may run into millions of dollars.

The main monopoly case has been in court since 1938.

By a 7 to 1 vote the supreme court upheld all but one of the findings of a special three-judge federal court sitting in New York last year. Justice Douglas wrote the majority opinion, with Justice Frankfurter dissenting. Justice Jackson took no part in the hearing.

The only point of disagreement was whether the companies should be ordered to discontinue their theaters. The government had argued that only by such a step could the movie industry be opened to free competition. The lower court had directed that first-run pictures be put on the auction block for competitive bidding, rather than being parceled out through company channels.

But the supreme court said such action either would call for court supervision of the sales or grant great discretion to the producing companies. It added:

"Yet delegation of the management of the system to the discretion of those who had the genius to conceive the present conspiracy and to execute it with the subtlety which this record reveals, could be done only with the greatest reluctance."

In his dissent, Frankfurter contended the trial court had gone far enough.

The big five companies involved are: Loew's, R.K.O., Paramount, Warner Bros., and 20th Century-Fox. They produce, distribute and exhibit movies. Linked with them in the case were Columbia Pictures Corp., and Universal Corp., Producers and Distributors, and United Artists Corp., a distributor.

Among other things, the court said the firms acted in restraint of trade by:

1. Setting the price of admissions.
2. Giving "clearance" to some theaters—that is setting the time before a film could be shown in a rival house.
3. Block booking—by which a theater or a chain must take a number of pictures to get a particular one desired.

Tornado Wrecks Two
Texas Towns; 3 Dead

BY TOM STONE

McKinney, Tex., May 4 (P)—McKinney and nearby Princeton began to snap back to life today after the two North Texas towns were floored yesterday by a violent tornado that killed three, injured 53 and caused widespread damage.

The storm, lashing out of a darkened half-sweet sky, lengthened the list of tornado casualties in six states within a 48-hour period to 23 dead and more than 156 injured.

NEW GOVERNOR
NAMED IN INDIASeasoned Hindu Lawyer
Follower Of Gandhi

By G. MILTON KELLY

New Delhi, India, May 4 (P)—Chakravarti Rajagopalachari, 69, seasoned Hindu lawyer and politician, is to be India's new governor general.

His appointment was announced last night and has been approved by King George VI on recommendation of the Indian government.

He will take office June 21, succeeding Earl Mountbatten, last of the British viceroys and first governor general of Free India.

Rajagopalachari—usually called "C. R."—is known in India as a friend and follower of Gandhi, and also for his independence in political thinking. When Gandhi began his "quit India" program of non-cooperation with the British during the past war, Rajagopalachari resigned from Gandhi's Congress party. He felt that India was too vulnerable to attack from the Japanese.

He now is governor of West Bengal province. While Mountbatten attended the wedding of Princess Elizabeth last fall, he was for 15 days India's acting governor general.

In 1919, Rajagopalachari abandoned a substantial law practice to follow Gandhi in his civil disobedience movement. He is a prohibitionist and he lives simply. His garb usually is simple dhoti loincloth, similar to that which Gandhi wore.

Republicans Turn
Out Strong in Ohio
Primary Election

Columbus, O., May 4 (P)—Ohio Republicans came out early and in force today to settle the battle between favorite son Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati and Minnesota's Harold E. Stassen for 23 of 33 delegates to the party's National convention.

Reports from all big cities showed Republican ballots were being handed out in today's primary election in numbers far in excess of those to Democrats. The latter were deciding chiefly whether former Gov. Frank J. Lausche or Ray T. Miller of Cleveland was their nominee for governor.

Cleveland and Akron reported heavy voting, with the Republican balloting especially heavy.

Frisky Pup Cuts Off
Wisconsin Village

Rome, Wis., May 4 (P)—A frisky dog cut off half of the road leading to this southeastern Wisconsin community yesterday.

The pup was trotting across the bridge over the Rock river, when Frank Beaver, 49, of Rome, drove along in his car. Beaver spotted the dog, braked his car and swerved into a steel girder.

The west end of the span plunged into the water, with beaver's car atop it. He was slightly shaken up. The dog scrambled to safety.

The bridge, the only link to the northeast part of Rome, served the only road to the town of less than 200 population.

Deaths Total 384
In Korean Rioting

Soul, May 4 (P)—The Army's box score on "Communist inspired" South Korean disorders listed 384 dead today for the three months ended April 30. The U. S. army, occupying South Korea, charges the Reds inspired the disorders to disrupt the scheduled May 10 elections.

FAST TIME ADOPTED

Ann Arbor (P)—Clocks will be set forward here at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday, the city council decided in voting 11-3 for Daylight Saving Time. The University of Michigan indicated earlier it would follow the city's lead on the time issue.

Storms hit Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Kentucky and West Virginia.

In Princeton, Earl Walker, chairman of the Collin county Red Cross chapter, said "Everybody pitched in and helped us to get back on our feet."

The tornado battered the south part of McKinney and traveled on to Princeton, where heavy damage was suffered.

The dead were identified as J. M. Maynor, 35, who lived on a farm near Princeton; Mrs. Yola Lowry, 78, McKinney, and Arthur Holmes whose age and address were not immediately learned.

Maynor was struck by lightning which accompanied the storm. He was riding on a tractor in a field near his farm home.

Both Mrs. Lowry and Holmes, described as a child, were hit by flying debris.

Telephone and power lines were knocked out temporarily.

Two field kitchens were speeded here to help feed hundreds of homeless. One was sent here from Fort Worth and the other a Red

BONES OF LOST
FARMER FOUNDFour Held For Murder
At Newnan, Ga.

Newnan, Ga., May 4 (P)—A battered and burned body, hardly more than bones and ashes, was held by Sheriff A. L. Potts today to back up charges that four men murdered "frail and sickly" Wilson Turner.

It was dug yesterday from a shallow pit after officers and posse had searched two weeks for it. Identified as the remains of Turner, a 26-year-old tenant farmer, was positive, said Potts and Sheriff E. F. Howell of nearby Milledgeville county.

The officers said they and other searchers found the body in a swampy woodland on the 2,000-acre farm of John Wallace, Meriwether county dairyman.

Wallace and Herring Sivell of Chipley, another large-scale dairy operator, are accused of savagely beating Turner after a wild motor car chase April 20, throwing his unconscious body into their car, and driving off.

A 17-mile cross-county chase of Turner began after the sharecropper was released from the Meriwether jail at Greenville. He was freed because there wasn't enough evidence to hold him on a charge of stealing a cow from Wallace.

The tenant farmer once worked for Wallace. His wife, mother of a small child, testified at a commitment hearing that trouble began over her husband and Wallace between her 20 gallons of whisky.

Eisenhower Buttons
Are Wasted Effort,
General Declares

New York, May 4 (P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower says the "Draft - Eisenhower Movement" lapel buttons are "wasted effort."

The General, back in civvies and installed in his new home on the Columbia university campus, exhibited the Eisenhower grin when he made the remark yesterday as a newsmen held up one of the buttons to him.

He was asked at a news conference if he would accept the presidential nomination if he was nominated by either major party without his authorization. His answer was:

"I wrote a letter last January which I expect you have read. As far as I am concerned, nothing has changed the conviction I expressed at that time. I stand by that letter."

Love Murder Trial
Opens At Marshall

Marshall, Mich., May 4 (P)—Earl Kent's first degree murder trial in the fatal shooting of 16-year-old Flaviana Watkins began here today before Calhoun County Circuit Judge Blaine W. Hatch.

Kent, 20, was held for trial after the Union City high school girl's body was found March 24 at her farm home near Burlington.

He admitted he broke their engagement just before the shooting, but insisted he did not kill her.

Currency In China
Skids To New Low

Shanghai, May 4 (P)—The price of rice soared to 4,500,000 yuan ($5) a picul (133 pounds) today as the Chinese currency continued its downward skid. The yuan hit a new low of 900,000 to $1, a decline of 50,000 overnight.

Colombian Cabinet
Severs Diplomatic
Ties With Moscow

Bogota, Colombia, May 4 (P)—Colombia became the third Latin American nation today to sever diplomatic relations with Russia. A break has been expected ever since President Mariano Ospina Pineda blamed international Communism for the bloody April 9 revolution.

The Colombian cabinet decided on the break late yesterday. A short time later a note announcing the action was delivered to the Soviet legation. Its contents were not disclosed.

The government radio broadcast in English an announcement of the rupture last night. Informants believed the government will inform Colombian citizens of its decision today.

Colombia's action followed the suit of Chile and Brazil. Both broke with the Soviets Oct. 21, 1947. A 21-nation decision condemning international Communism was passed by the Pan American conference which closed here Sunday.

For the past month responsible sources say, Ospina Perez and his conservative cabinet colleagues have been trying to persuade Liberal party members that Colombia should break with the U. S. S. R.

Observers believe the Liberals were swung over last week when Carlos Arango Velez, Colombian Ambassador to the Vatican, Chief of the Colombian delegation to the Pan American conference, and a top Liberal leader, declared in a radio speech that Communists engineered the April 9 uprising, which claimed 1,500 lives and disrupted the conference for several days. The assassination of Liberal party leader Jorge Eliecer Gaitan touched off the revolt.

The Arab attack on Kfar Etzion was well under way by noon, according to sparse reports received in Jerusalem.

Jews last night attacked the 16th General hospital on Mt. Scopus, held by Arab Legion units. An Arab spokesman said the attackers were repulsed with "hundreds dead." A Jewish spokesman said the attack was retaliatory and only three Jews were killed.

Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground force now allied with Haganah, the Jewish militia, announced in Tel Aviv the capture of the Arab stronghold village of Yehudia after an all night battle with Arabs.

Michigan Car Dealers
Pay $250,000 Tribute
To GOP, Black Claims

Port Huron, Mich., May 4 (P)—State Attorney General Eugene F. Black charged last night the Republican party has assessed Michigan automobile dealers "$1 a car sold since the factories reopened at the end of World War II."

The fund asked amounted to $250,000, he told members of the Port Huron Exchange club. Also accusing former state administrators of granting sales tax exemption privileges to members of auto dealer associations, the attorney general asked:

"What do you think the boys are buying with this fund—good government or special interest profit from invisible government?"

Black described what he called a "supposedly secret meeting" of auto dealers in Detroit a fortnight ago. He said they were called to the session "on the demand" of Arthur Summerfield, Republican national committeeman from Michigan.

"They were informed then that their political contribution would be $1 a car sold since the factories reopened at the end of World War II," he declared.

The attorney general said that when he took office in 1947 he was "amazed" to learn that a dues paid membership in the Detroit or Michigan Automobile Dealers Associations meant exemption from enforcement of the state sales tax laws.

"I did not know when I took office in January, 1947," he added, "that the state had lost a million dollars each year in uncollected taxes which, but for a politically dominated board of tax administration, could have been collected."

Black praised the work of Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman in Detroit, whose auto grey market grand jury has been credited with collecting thousands of dollars in delinquent sales taxes from dealers.

The investigation is continuing in Flint, Black added, where Circuit Judge Philip Elliott has been named to act as grand juror.

Seven Parties Go
On Michigan Ballot

Lansing, May 4 (P)—The Michigan election ballot this year will have seven parties on it.

At the deadline yesterday, four minority parties had gained a place on the ballot by filing sufficient signatures.

They are the Socialist Workers' Party, the Socialist Party, the Socialist Labor Party and the Progressive Party of Henry A. Wallace.

The Republican, Democratic and Prohibition Party are on the ballot by virtue of a sufficient number of votes cast for their candidates at the last election.

Youngstown, O., May 4 (P)—Jesse James was robbed here last night—and by a woman!
The Youngstown man, who gave police the name of the Missouri robber, said a couple with whom he had visited a couple of taverns "stuck him up," the man holding him while the woman went through his pockets. They got $100.

BY CARTER L. DAVIDSON

Jerusalem, May 4 (P)—Jews claimed today the capture of an Arab village which had barred the way to Lydda Airport.

Arab fighters were reported attacking the Jewish settlements of Kfar Etzion south of Jerusalem. Arabs said Jews fired upon a convoy of the British-officered Arab Legion there yesterday.

Other skirmishes developed elsewhere in Palestine, where the end of the British mandate is now but 11 days away.

A United Nations truce commission made up of the French, British and United States consuls general is believed to have gone to Amman, capital of Trans-Jordan, to confer with King Abdullah and the secretary-general of the Arab League, Rahman Az zam Pasha. Consulate sources declined to discuss their whereabouts. Abdullah has said he personally will lead the regular forces of Trans-Jordan, Iran, Syria and Lebanon against Palestine Jews.

SHALLOW GRAVE
BAFFLES POLICEBody Of CIO Officer
Found In Woodpile

Wheaton, Ill., May 4 (P)—A bloodstained mattress and a recently dug shallow grave supplied new puzzle pieces today in the mysterious killing of William Korbelik, 42-year-old president of a CIO union local.

Korbelik's widow, Frances, 40, reported finding her husband's body yesterday under a basement woodpile in their house at Tri-State village near here. On January 14, she had reported him missing since Jan. 10.

Sheriff Elmer Hoffman of DuPage county said Korbelik's body was nude and that X-ray examination showed a bullet had passed through the head. In the attic of the union official's home, Hoffman said, he found a mattress with a bloodstain near one end.

The grave, about two feet deep, was found in the back yard of the house.

"It looks as though the man was killed in his own house," Hoffman said. "And this hole in the yard was dug after Sunday's rain. That would indicate that someone was planning a quiet burial."

Hoffman said Mrs. Korbelik and her daughters, Dorothy, 15, and Frances, 16, would be questioned further.

Korbelik was president of Local 3330, United Steelworkers of America. He was employed as a welder by the Link Belt company, stoker manufacturers, Chicago.

Cartridges Worth
$50,000 Found On Mexican Frontier

Mexico City, May 4 (P)—Border authorities in Nuevo Laredo reported today discovery of a cache of cartridges valued at $50,000.

The cache was found in a private house by customs officials headed by Cmdr. Bernal Garza.

Garza said he learned the cartridges were intended for shipment to the southern part of Mexico. He said he believed the cartridges had been brought into Mexico from the United States.

Garza said no arrests had been made.

FORD WORKERS
DEMAND RAISEWage Drive Rounded Out
By Michigan UAW

Detroit, May 4 (P)—Demands for a 30-cent hourly pay boost and other concessions for 120,000 Ford Motor Co. workers today rounded out the CIO United Auto Workers' wage drive against the automotive industry's big three.

Armed with a list of 11 objectives, the Ford negotiating committee expected to start negotiations around July 15. The wage clause in the Ford contract will be re-opened on that date.

A hospital plan, pension setup and guaranteed weekly wage were among goals approved by the UAW's national Ford council here yesterday. It was estimated the whole "wage package" demand might add up to as much as 50 cents an hour.

With possibilities of a May 12 strike hanging fire, the UAW was scheduled to meet Chrysler Corp. representatives again today. No progress was reported by either party on the union's demand for a 30-cent increase.

A ruling by Michigan Attorney General Eugene F. Black that a state-conducted strike vote must be held at Chrysler added uncertainty to the situation. The decision was based on Michigan's Bonine-Tripp labor law.

Four East Lansing
Students Catch Up
Studies In Cooler

East Lansing, May 4 (P)—Four Michigan State college students will have a chance to catch up with their studies—in the county jail—for the next five weekends.

The four were sentenced Monday by Judge Robert M. Montgomery of Lansing Township court for malicious destruction of property. Deputy Sheriff Floyd Hicks said the four tore the door off his car and broke a window when he stopped them for driving on the wrong side of the road.

Besides spending their weekends behind bars the quartet was ordered to make restitution for damage to the car. The four are Kenneth R. Bradley, 24; Lloyd N. Coon, 24; Donald E. Meeks, 21, and Edward A. Haglund, 26, all of East Lansing.

May Weather Wet;
Maine Is Chillest

Chicago, May 4 (P)—Maine was the only chilly spot on Tuesday's early morning weather map with other sections of the country reporting temperatures at seasonable levels.

The mercury dipped to below freezing in Northern Maine, with Caribou reporting a low of 30. Early morning readings over the northern half of the country generally were between 40 and 50 and ranged between 50 and 70 in the southern half.

Rain fell in scattered sections. The heaviest falls were in sections of Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana. Memphis reported a fall of 1.22 inches in six hours. There also were showers in parts of Kentucky, Indiana, Missouri, Oklahoma and Montana.

Oleo Tax Repeal
In Senate Snarl

Washington, May 4 (P)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) today asked the Senate to vote whether the Oleo Margarine Tax Repeal bill should go on the Senate calendar for action or be referred to a committee for study.

Vandenberg, the presiding officer, said he is asking the Senate to decide in an effort to settle a complicated parliamentary snarl in handling the House-approved bill. The Senate vote on procedure could well indicate final fate of the measure.

MAY 11 TIEUP
OF RAILROADS
SEEMS LIKELYMEDIATION EFFORTS
FAIL AT CHICAGO
MEETING

Chicago, May 4 (P)—A mediation conference with the nation's railroads ended today with no prospect of heading off a strike May 11.

"The situation is no brighter than it was yesterday afternoon when I said it looks like there might be a strike," said Frank Douglass, chairman of the national (railway) mediation board, after another meeting with management.

"There has been no change in the attitude of the carriers," he added. "They are willing to give no more than was recommended by the presidential fact-finding board that studied the wage dispute."

Offers Rejected

That group recommended that the railroads hike wages of the three brotherhoods threatening to strike by 15½ cents an hour. The railroads agreed to this. The Brotherhoods of Engineers, Firemen and Enginemen and Switchmen rejected it as inadequate in the face of current living costs.

Douglass said he would meet this afternoon with the brotherhood representatives. He predicted the meeting would be short, lasting perhaps 30 minutes.

He and Francis A. O'Neill jr., a member of the mediation board, have been meeting separately with the labor and management groups since Thursday after the brotherhoods set May 11 for their strike. So far they have been unable to narrow down the issues in dispute enough to warrant calling a joint meeting of both sides.

"It looks very much like there might be a strike," said Frank Douglass, chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation Board yesterday. "The picture does not look good."

His comment followed four days of apparently unsuccessful meetings with the unions and carriers. However, he said the board planned further sessions today in a final attempt to settle the wage dispute.

"Tuesday (today) might very well be our last day in Chicago," Douglass told newsmen. "If the picture doesn't change we may well decide there is nothing more to do here."

White House Silent
Douglass said that the "White House was being kept informed of the progress of negotiations."

There was no immediate word from Washington if some government action might be expected. Douglass did not disclose who was being kept advised at the White House on the talks here.

There appears no further step for the government to take to head off the strike by the carriers' key workers—some 190,000 engineers.

Suggest Townships Plan To Enforce Liquor Laws

Prosecutor J. Clyde McGonagle today suggested to Delta county's 14 townships that they meet to plan methods of using their liquor license funds for liquor law enforcement as required by state statute.

The townships are faced with the alternative of expending for enforcement of the liquor license money refunded to them, or losing it altogether. The total received by the townships is approximately $10,700 a year.

Prosecutor McGonagle said it would be in conformity with state statute for the townships to pool their liquor license revenues to pay for the cost of one or two deputy sheriffs and supplying them with a car. The deputies would make the regular inspections of the liquor establishments required under state law, and would make controls that would aid in controlling drunk driving on the highways.

Must Show Proof
All of the townships and villages in Michigan have been advised by the Michigan liquor control commission that they must provide regular inspections in the enforcement of the liquor laws with the liquor license money refunded to them by the state. The state has sent the townships and villages forms they are to fill out and return, showing the number of inspections made and the cost of enforcement.

Should the townships and villages fail to show expenditures for enforcement, the liquor license refunds will be halted. Presumably it would be retained by the state.

Several township officials have asked the prosecutor what they should do, and he has suggested a meeting of township boards for a discussion of plans to conform to the state law. The prosecutor's suggestion of financing additional deputies, with the sheriff charged with the responsibility of making the enforcement inspections, has met with favor among many of the township officials.

Cities Have Policy
The townships and villages received in refund from the state 85 per cent of the liquor license money paid to the state by licensees within the respective units of government. The law requiring the use of this money for liquor law enforcement has been on the books for about 15 years, but this is the first time the state has demanded an accounting on the expenditure of the license money.

In the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone the liquor license money goes to maintain established police departments that make the liquor inspections; and in the village of Garden a constable is hired for the work. The townships, however, do not have liquor law enforcement officers although they receive liquor license money in the following amounts annually:

Baldwin $595; Bark River $884; Bay de Noc $556; Brampton $467; Cornish $148; Egan $446; Fairbanks $212; Ford River $725; Maple Ridge $1,092; Masonville $1,793; Nahma $318; Wells $1,943; Garden $991.68; Escanaba $850.

Imports of Wood Pulp on Increase

Washington, D. C. (WNS)—Imports of wood pulp from all sources totaled 207,758 short tons in March 1948, according to preliminary figures of the Department of Commerce, as compared to 141,995 tons in March 1947.

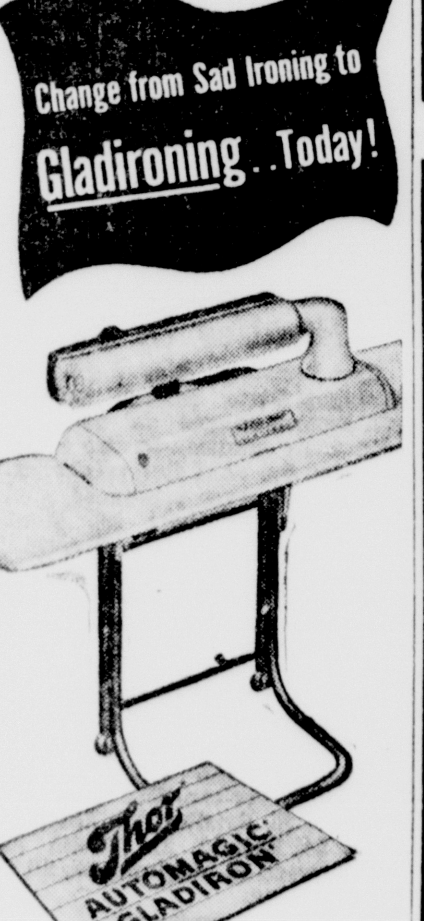

Canada ranked as the principal supplier in March of both years, imports from Canada in March reaching 151,143 tons, an increase of 12,377 tons over March 1947.

Imports from Sweden in March 1948 amounted 21,152 tons, or 9,322 tons more than in March of last year. Pulp imports from Finland amounted to 32,916 tons in March, while a year ago no pulp was received from Finland. Story of an X-GI To Be Dramatized By Civic Theatre

The story of an X-GI, Allan Savage, and his civilian troubles, culminating with invention of a Supersonic Sustie by him, forms the basis for Civic Theatre's dramatization over WDBB, Thursday at 9:30 p. m.

Betty Bascoe directs the cast of seven. Gardner Eversole and Robert Russell are handling sound effects for this week's production and Tony Flynn is supervising music. Don Aronson will engineer the program.

Allan Savage, the X-GI, is played by Percy Weinberg. Veteran Civic Theatre player, Helen Masterson, also long-affiliated with the theatre group, plays the part of Susie Lewis, a practical, but pixie-like young woman. Playing Jean Winthrop, who hopes Allan Savage will become a partner in her father's grocery business, will be Mary Roberts. Miss Roberts played the lead role in Civic Theatre's recent production of "Three Corners Moon."

Aileen Torphy, of the Escanaba public school system, will enact the character of Mrs. Winthrop. Jean's mother, Paul Corcoran will play Eddie Lewis, sophisticated, cocksure scion. Tony Flynn will be heard as the sports announcer. Thursday's radio dramatization marks the second in a series of eight radio plays to be dramatized by the Escanaba Thespians. Richard Morenus of the staff of WDBB is author of the dramas. Last week the group produced "So Much We Hold," a drama based on the precept, "Love or Perish."

WATER RATES TO BE RAISED

Minimum Charge Of $1 Per Month Fixed

Moderate increases in water rates for the next fiscal year were agreed upon by members of the city council at a meeting Monday afternoon at the city manager's office. Formal approval will be granted at the regular meeting of the council Thursday evening.

The rate per 1,000 gallons was increased from 18c to 21c for the first 5,000 gallons of water used, from 15c to 21c for the second 5,000, from 10c to 18c for 10,000 to 50,000 gallons, from 10c to 15c for 50,000 to 100,000 and from 7c to 8c for all over 100,000 gallons per month.

A minimum charge of $1.00 per month was established but without any change in the meter service charge of 50c per month. Consumers will be privileged to use approximately 2500 gallons per month for the minimum charge of $1.00.

The increased rates are estimated to yield $66,467 for water consumed plus $22,500 service charges for meters, as compared with $50,386 under present rates plus $22,500 service charges for meters.

Total estimated water revenues for the fiscal year 1948-49 are estimated at $103,767, which includes $12,000 hydrant rental charges and miscellaneous receipts of $2800. This total would bring a return of 6 per cent on the capital investment for the year, City Manager Aronson told the council.

The increase in the monthly minimum charge from 50 cents to $1.00 will affect only those customers now using less than 2500 gallons of water per month. The water study report revealed that 40 customers are using no water at all, 247 using less than 1,000 gallons per month and 334 using from 1,100 to 2000 gallons per month. The largest single category are those customers using from 2100 to 3000 gallons per month, of which there are 528 in the city. There are 507 customers using from 3100 to 4000 gallons per month and 419 using from 4100 to 5000 gallons.

Total number of water customers in the city is 3,555 using 32,095,800 gallons per month.

BOOST FIXED IN GAS RATES

Higher Charges Adopted
To Offset Losses

Increases in gas rates for the next fiscal year have been tentatively approved by the Escanaba city council, a boost from $1.25 per M cubic feet to an average of $1.65 for the first 2,000 cubic feet consumed.

Under the new schedule rate breaks will be made at 500 cubic foot levels for the first 2,000 feet, varying from $1.80 per 1,000 to $1.50 per M. The next 1,000 cubic feet will be sold at $1.35, compared to $1.15 at present. The next 2,000 will be the same as the present rate, $1.10 per M and the next 15,000 cubic feet also will remain at the same rate as presently, $1.00 per M. The rate for over 20,000 feet will be 90 cents per thousand. A minimum bill of $1.00 per month also will be fixed, which will include a meter service charge of 50 cents.

The rates are based upon a purchase price of gas oil at 15 cents net per gallon. The lowest rate will be increased or decreased a half cent per 1,000 cubic feet or gas for each one-tenth cent change in the price of gas oil purchased by the city. The present price of gas oil is 15.7 cents per gallon so that the lowest rate, the 90 cents rate, actually will be 93.5 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

The commercial rates will be $1.80 for the first 1,000 cubic feet, $1.75 for the next 1,000, $1.50 for the next 3,000, $1.25 for the next 15,000, $1 for the next 30,000 and 90 cents for all over 50,000 cubic feet per month. The adjusted rate will also apply on the lowest category according to the prevailing price for gas oil as in the residential schedule.

All users will go through the various rate steps before reaching the low rate.

The rates are estimated to return 4 percent to the city for interest on capital investment and to offset a present operating loss in the gas department.

There is no charge. All those attending are invited to participate in an open discussion to be held after the short speaking program.

I. C. Peterson, chairman of the UMT committee, was informed by Fort Knox officials this morning that Major Bond was being flown by commercial airline to Milwaukee and from there will proceed by train to Green Bay, where he will be picked up by Tech. Sgt. Spencer Mathison, of the local Army recruiting office, to be driven by automobile to Escanaba.

In all probability, Major Bond will give an even more detailed report on the UMT experimental unit at Fort Knox. As director of the unit, he has been responsible

Prevent Forest Fires

SPORTSMEN, campers and sightseers travelling through the reforested areas of the Upper Peninsula must be thrilled by the lush growth of young trees in lands that were only recently denuded. Some of the areas planted in the early days of the CCC's are now covered with new stands of young pines that are shooting upward with satisfying growth.

These areas, as well as those lands where natural reforestation has brought in a new timber crop, constitute an extremely valuable asset to the Upper Peninsula. The need is for cooperation in forest fire prevention.

The observance of four simple rules would just about wipe out the 90% of all forest fires now caused by human carelessness. If all persons who go into wooded areas for either business or pleasure would observe these rules, there would be only one major cause of fires to be licked, sparks from railroad trains, and considerable progress is now being made on this latter cause of forest fires.

The four simple rules follow:

1. Hold your match until it is cold—then pinch it to make sure it's out.
2. Crush out your cigarette, cigar or pipe ashes. Use the ash tray in your car and never throw smoking materials from the window.
3. Drown your campfire in water—then stir it and drown it again.
4. Burn grass, brush or other trash only when you have a permit to do so.

These rules should be memorized by all persons who have any occasion to go through forest lands and, of course, they should be remembered. There is nothing about them that will cause trouble or expense to fulfill. Failure to observe them might devastate a forest that represents the work of nature for scores of years, razing our most beautiful vacation and hunting regions, and depriving the raw materials that make jobs for hundreds of our citizens.

Congressional Reform

THE Congress of the United States, like some quarrelsome families, is inclined to be fiercely loyal in the face of outside criticism. The members may exchange ponderous insults behind closed doors. But, politics aside, they will seldom admit any flaws in the way they run their household.

An interesting exception to this family loyalty is offered by Rep. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. Writing in the current American Magazine, he takes his colleagues to task—and rightly, we think— for the waste of time and money and sometimes the downright harm that results from needless committees, investigations and congressional junkets.

The LaFollette-Monroney Reorganization Act, passed by the 79th Congress, was supposed to abolish special committees. But the House wouldn't hear of that. So now the 80th Congress has 11 of them. These groups, with the standing committees and subcommittees, do a lot to duplicate investigating, as anyone who follows congressional activities already knows.

Representative Kefauver suggests some remedies. He would abolish all special and select committees and let the regular groups do the job. This, he says, would not only save money but also remove the temptation for temporary committee heads to indulge in vaudeville tricks to attract attention and headlines.

He would give both rules committees the responsibility of passing on all investigations, in and out of Washington, and occasionally saying no. And he would let witnesses at investigations cross-examine their accusers.

These reforms are certainly in order, though domestic politics and world events probably won't permit them now. But we fear the voting public pays too little attention to the inner workings of Congress to insist that they be carried out.

What Is Zoning?

ZONING ordinances are adopted by communities to regulate the uses of land and buildings in the common interest. But zoning ordinances are of little worth if they are changed frequently to legalize actions that would be in violation with the original provisions.

A news story in a Columbus, O., newspaper recently explained zoning in simple and understandable language. It is reprinted below because it contains a lot of good common sense:

Columbus has zoning laws on the books. They provide that certain types of buildings may be built only in certain places. There are some for homes, others for business, still others for industry.

The truth is these laws aren't worth much.

"Look," says Chris Columbus, "why have laws that don't mean anything? All I want to do is build a house where it won't be surrounded by factories and stores. Doesn't the city look after my rights?"

Technically, the city does protect your rights, Chris. If you go down to City Hall you can see a huge map of Columbus with each zone indicated. You can select a spot marked "single houses only" and build your home there.

But there is no guarantee the map will not be changed. A filling station or a chicken house may be built beside your new home next year or next month. Or even tomorrow.

There have been 364 changes in the zoning map since the present zoning ordinance was passed in 1923. In 364 cases the Columbus City Planning Commission and Columbus City Council told someone:

"We won't let our zoning law handicap you. Go right ahead and ignore it and we'll pass a resolution making it legal."

UN Failure On Palestine

THE United States government is used to angry attacks by Russia in the United Nations. It is not used to reasonable attacks like that by Sir Carl Berendson of New Zealand, whose sharp rapier of logic cut the present American position on Palestine to shreds.

He had an inviting target in the American trusteeship proposal. The gist of this argument was that the United States had favored partition until it appeared that this solution would cause chaos and violence. Then, as a means of saving life, it felt called upon to ask the warring parties for a truce and to suggest a trusteeship until an agreement could be reached.

Sir Carl had warned the General Assembly last November that chaos and violence would result if partition were not accompanied by enforcement. Now he renewed his argument in the light of recent developments.

"I asked whether the Assembly was prepared to gamble with the lives of innocent people in Palestine," he said. "The appeal fell on deaf ears. You were prepared to go to war; we did gamble and we lost. But we do not pay. You know today who is paying. . . British boys dying at their post of duty. . . the people of Palestine, be they innocent or guilty, be they Arab or Jew."

His chief points were there: If partition was right in November, it is right today, for circumstances have not changed in the slightest. The Assembly's November decision was the right thing, but it was done in the wrong way. As a result of that error, there is "death, bloodshed, murder, outrage and agony in Palestine." As a further result, the Assembly is in grave danger of losing the public confidence on which its authority ultimately rests.

If the UN member nations are willing to take their proportionate part in enforcing a trusteeship, he said, then by any logical basis they should be willing to do the same for partition. This is a test case, he concluded, and the future of the UN and of the world may depend upon the way in which it is decided.

We do not think that Sir Carl's warning is in any way exaggerated. One only needs to recall the League of Nations' history to find a frightening parallel. The League had almost as much machinery for stopping aggression as the UN. But in the great tests the major powers hesitated to use that machinery for reasons of national policy, or through fear of war.

RACO AIRPORT (Sault Ste. Marie News)

Publisher Stuart H. Perry of Adrian says the dominant interest of people in the Michigan area is the prospect of trouble with Russia.

The Sault is no exception. It is no wonder then that the government airport at Raco is receiving new attention. Rumors have been flying of possibilities to enlarge the airport for use of most modern aircraft.

Disposition of Raco airport, if any, no doubt lies among the top secret files at Washington and the men in charge of top secret files are not talking. The Raco airport still is government property, a caretaker is still stationed there to shoot off civilian fliers and the government knows that the airport exists and in all probability has it fitted into a defense scheme for the Sault locks. As far as can be determined from available information there has been no change in the status of the airport.

As for defense of the locks in the event of new trouble, there is every reason to believe that such a top priority target has not been forgotten at Washington.

Take My Word For It

WORDS TO WATCH

Overheard on a radio commentary: "The Communists' actions can be described only as HEE-nee-uss." The word used is heinous, "odious; atrocious; giving great offense." The pronunciation used has no sanction. Heinous is a word of two syllables. Pronounce it: HAY-uss.

In Shakespeare's day, the word horizon was accented on the first syllable, as "HAWR-i-zun," a pronunciation that is still heard occasionally. But it is obsolete. Better avoid it, and say: huh-RV-z'n.

Watch the word quantity. There is a tendency to omit the first "t" as if the word were spelled "qu-a-n-i-t-y." I think this is the result of association with the word quality, for the words are often used together in such constructions as "both quality and quantity." But the first "t" of quantity should not be omitted. The correct pronunciation is KWAIN-ti-tee.

There is no "gash" in sagacious. Not "suh-GASH-uss." The word means "shrewd, far-sighted; having keen judgment." Be sure to say: suh-GAY-shuss. But note that in the noun sagacity, the second "a" is flat as in gas, thus: suh-GASS-i-tee.

have put together fabulous fortunes within a few years.

The question that naturally occurs is how this is possible with the income tax what it is today. Most of us pay out just about all our surplus to Uncle Sam, and we struggle and sweat to come out even at the end of the year.

The explanation for the Texas millionaires is a special provision in the income-tax law. It allows an individual or a corporation owning a natural resource to deduct for the depletion of that resource.

The owner of an oil well or a natural-gas reserve can offset 27½ per cent of his profit for depletion. Through the years he may write off well over 100 per cent of the value of his property in this way. Thus the Texas oil man is able to keep far more of his profits than the average industrialist or business man.

NATURAL GAS FAVORED

This is pointed up by a bill just reported out of a Senate committee which would give natural-gas companies a new advantage. According to Sen. Tom Stewart of Tennessee, in a minority report, the bill would nullify federal regulation of natural gas.

The two Republican members of the committee, Sen. Ed Moore of Oklahoma, spokesman for the oil and gas interests, and Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana, say it would merely "clarify" the authority under which the federal power commission now regulates the industry.

In his minority report, Sen. Stewart points to a lot of things which this seemingly innocent bill would do. It would almost certainly mean rate increases in the northern cities that use natural gas.

But far more important in the long run is the encouragement that it would give to more rapid exploitation of what is a very limited natural resource. Stewart said: "Thus the bill threatens early exhaustion of the only indigenous fuel resource of the southwestern states and would impair the ability of such states to balance their economy through industrial development."

PRESENTS SERIOUS PROBLEM

In view of our dwindling oil reserves, this is hardly the time to open the way to burning up at an even more rapid rate a valuable fuel resource. Here is the most serious problem before the American people today and thus far there is little understanding of it.

The old attitude of "get while the getting is good" threatens the last remaining resources on this once incalculably rich continent. Unless these last resources are protected and conserved, we shall become a poor nation, degenerating into mass misery in the pattern of China. That this is no idle bogey is shown with startling clarity in the much discussed book "Our Plundered Planet" by Fairfield Osborn.

The natural-gas people are only one of many interests seeking to get favors out of Washington. The coming to power of the Republicans is taken as a kind of rallying cry of "come and get it." And unfortunately there are Republicans in Congress working hard to confirm that impression.

Grazing interests in the public-lands states of the west now work ceaselessly to break down the barriers that all experts, both in and out of government, believe to be essential to protect the precarious balance of land and water. They are reported about to launch a new propaganda drive.

In the natural-gas industry, according to testimony during hearings, 25 large corporations control 77 per cent of the total gas acreage in the two largest gas fields in the country, which are both in Texas. Commissioner Leland Olds of the F. P. C. testified that, if the 25 companies got a 5 per cent rate increase, their reserves would bring in "an extra amount totaling $1,616,450,000."

That is a very large sum of money. But again let it be said that the money itself is not the most important element. The secondary effect in holding out higher profits is to encourage wild and wasteful exploitation of vanishing natural wealth.

Both directly and indirectly, by trying to change the complexion of the power commission, the drive to undermine present regulations continues. This is the time to preserve our regulatory system, not to undermine it.

Overheard at a lecture on psychology: "He was a pro-tuh-JEE of Freud's." The word used is protege, "one who is under the protection of or sponsored by another." The word is from the French and retains much of its French flavor, although the Standard American pronunciation differs somewhat from the French. It is correct to say: PRO-tuh-zhay.

Overheard in a doctor's reception room: "The doctor says that my ear trouble is caused by an inflammation of the you-station tube." The word used is Eustachian tube, the tube which extends from the middle ear to the nasal cavity. The tube was named for Eustachio, a famous Italian physician of the 16th century.

In best usage, the word is pronounced: yoo-STAY-kee-un.

A commentator pronounces prejudicial as "FREE-joo-DISH-ul." It's wrong. Better say: PREH-joo-DISH-ull.

HONEYMOON—Now a national magazine has completed a poll on the subject: "What Kind of Honeymoon Should You Take?" And the answers, as might well be expected, are varied as those you get if you asked people what they liked for breakfast.

Dunathan

The women who were consulted on the important question of a romantic post-wedding trip agreed on only one point: No honeymoon can be a gala affair unless there is a man along. It is remarkable that there should be such unanimous agreement on that, because the women agreed on nothing else. Some of them advised spending every cent the couple could lay hands on to make the honeymoon a success. Others cannily advised watching the pennies, because marriage is a serious business. Another group of women said they thought it wise to delay the honeymoon until the couple had become better acquainted. This acquaintance-ship, they added, should not delay the honeymoon too long. No bride likes to take children with her on a trip to Niagara Falls.

MAN'S VIEWPOINT —Not to be outdone on this polling of opinion concerning honeymoons, we decided to get the male slant on the ancient custom. Quite a few men said they believed the best honeymoon trip they could think of would be a couple weeks on a fishing trip. They were quite vague about everything except the fishing, but admitted that perhaps the bride wouldn't care for 14 days of fresh air and mosquito dope. In that event, she could stay home, they said.

There were other comments, and we will report on those in due course.

MOSTLY DON'TS —Majority of the men, all of whom had experienced a honeymoon, had more to say on what should not be included in a honeymoon trip rather than what should be included. The collective answers consisted of an imposing list of don'ts.

Don't take a motor trip, said some. Chauffeur your bride around the United States is likely to bring out one of the less desirable feminine traits—backseat driving. There is nothing that will burst an illusion quicker than to hear the dainty bride rasp, "You just drove through a sten sign, dear—"

Others said that it is equally disillusioning to take a honeymoon trip on a boat. Brides have weak stomachs, their husbands said, and spend most of their time wishing they were back ashore. If a man is to go on a honeymoon sea voyage, the best girl to marry is Hurricane Mary, daughter of Captain Fury, or Alcha, who was born in an outrigger. This warning also applies to long airplane trips.

While most men would enjoy a honeymoon trip to the great outdoors, the wise bridegroom will postpone such an adventure for a couple years after the wedding. Fishermen who adventure leaving the bride at home are going too far. Better give the bride her way at first and work

Into the Past

Ten Years Ago
Gulliver—Miss Ruth Credeon, a sophomore at the college of St. Scholastica in Duluth, Minn., will enter nursing training in St. Mary's hospital July 23, it was announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Credeon.

Newberry—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith have returned from Braintree, Mass., where they were called by the death of Mrs. Smith's father.

Munising—Two poultry houses and an equipment shed valued at $1,200 were destroyed by fire which started Sunday night at the Walter Crosby farm.

Twenty Years Ago
Bark River—George W. Douglas, Bark river pioneer, and former owner of the Douglas house, died of complications due to old age, at St. Francis hospital yesterday.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnson, 305 Stephenson avenue, have returned from an extended trip in California.

Gladstone—Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Legault are the parents of a son, Norman William, born April 17.

up to the fishing trip later on. In this way no feelings will be hurt. Most brides want to be comfortable on a honeymoon, and few care to compete with a fish for the attention of their husbands.

NIAGARA FALLS—The traditional trip to Niagara Falls is about the least imaginative, but most rewarding, of all honeymoons. This is the statement of those who have been there. To gather with other honeymooners and watch the plunging waters has something of a ritual about it. And the Niagara Falls Chamber of Commerce reports that the divorce rate among couples who honeymoon there is far below the national average.

OR NONE AT ALL—The bridal couple unable to honeymoon at Niagara Falls might very well skip the whole thing, unless they wish to start off under a handicap.

Most couples will very probably be busy anyway—hunting for a place to live. It may be they attended to this detail during their engagement period. But who wants to prolong the engagement for more than four or five years? It takes that long to find a house nowadays.

House hunting may not be a pleasant way to spend a honeymoon, but it has its points. The couple is engaged in a venture both necessary and of mutual interest. It is the climax of their acquaintanceship, engagement and marriage. They are founding a home, and what is home without a house? Out of their house-hunting efforts will come mutual admiration and understanding even if they are unsuccessful in their quest.

LEAST DESIRABLE —Couples who have been through that sort of thing say that the least desirable honeymoon is that spent in anticipation of returning to reside with in-laws. Better a rented room, a cold-water flat, or a tourist cabin than moving in with his folks or her folks.

A honeymoon is a period of enjoyment free from everyday cares and worries. It is not the end, but the beginning of marriage. A good place to start cultivating the roses in the garden of love is in "your own home." A house-hunting honeymoon may not be the answer to a maiden's prayer but it is often a 1948 necessity.

Lead, S. D. (P)—The story of gold in the Black Hills—and it is the same story everywhere—is summed up in the life of one little man and one giant corporation.

The man was—past tense—"Potato Creek Johnny" Perrett, a bewhiskered old prospector who spent his lifetime searching for gold in chunks and did manage to find the biggest nugget ever turned up in these "magic mountains."

The corporation is—present tense—the Homestake Mining Company, which has been looking for gold in specks here since 1877.

Mine Still Producing

The specks paid off better than the nuggets. Potato Creek Johnny lived out his life in hopeful poverty. The Homestake became the largest gold mine in the Western Hemisphere. It is still producing. Potato Creek Johnny was typical of earlier adventurers who flocked here by the thousands after the electric news swept America in 1874: "Gold has been found in the Black Hills." It was found by two scouts for Gen. George A. Custer.

The white men paid no heed to government warnings to keep out of the area, which belonged to the Sioux Indians. Mining towns rose, flourished and died in a period of months. Men became wealthy overnight. The Indians finally gave up their lands and received their customary reward—a paper treaty from the Great White Father and a lot of fragile promises.

As the gold dwindled in the creek beds, the boom died and the adventurers moved on or settled down to workaday jobs.

Then began the period of business adventure in gold mining. A syndicate from San Francisco in 1876 purchased two claims totaling ten acres and began a systematic and scientific mining gamble on the Homestake site.

It took big money, but the Syndicate had it. It ripped great holes in the earth, and built its own smelter.

Old Prospectors Stayed

But a few of the oldtime prospectors stayed on. With a burro for company and a pick, shovel and pan for tools they ranged the hills and creekbeds, caught by a fever that never died—the hope of the "big find," the new El Dorado that always was around the next bend, somewhere on the next ridge.

The nuggets were few, the specks many. The Homestake sank new shafts, hired more men, installed huge machinery, built its own sawmill and power plant, expanded to 6,000 acres.

As the years bent him down, old Potato Creek Johnny became a Black Hills symbol, a faded picturesque character familiar to thousands of tourists. A mild pleasant man less than five feet tall, he had sincerely and pride.

Johnny died in 1943, and the people of Deadwood buried him in a hillside grave by "Wild Bill" Hickok. The grave overlooks the vast Homestake mine, which provides a livelihood, directly or indirectly, for 30,000 people. It is owned by 13,000 investors, few of whom ever saw raw gold.

The specks taken out of the Homestake amount to more than $200,000,000. The biggest nugget Potato Creek Johnny ever found was worth $120.25.

But he never had any regrets. Neither does the Homestake Mining Co., Inc.

Washington.—If Mrs. Roosevelt does what her friends say she's going to do about Harry Truman it's going to be one of the hardest political blows the president has ever taken — also a big personal disappointment. Only a few insiders know it, but President Truman has counted on Mrs. Roosevelt to help him swing his renomination. That was one thing he had in mind when he first appointed Mrs. R. to the United Nations.

Mrs. Roosevelt was first asked to be a delegate to UNESCO, the United Nations educational and cultural subsidiary. This she turned down. Then Secretary of State Jimmy Byrnes suggested to Truman that she be made a full U. S. delegate to the U. N.

Truman even took the trouble to call Mrs. Roosevelt himself so as to make sure she accepted the U. N. job.

Now, however, word from Roosevelt circles is that Mrs. R. will not only oppose Harry for renomination, but may have a friendly talk with him, urging him not to run.

OIL LOBBY

Hard-working Senator Donnell of Missouri begins important hearings today on the most powerful lobby Washington has seen in a long time—tidelands oil.

Donnell and Harry Truman, both from Missouri, one a Republican and the other a Democrat, don't agree on a lot of things. But they do agree that the vast reserve of oil under the ocean bottom—namely tidelands oil—belongs to the federal government. And if Donnell is able to uncover some of the big money that was put into Truman's campaign by the big oil boys who thought they were influencing future tidelands votes, then it should be noted to President Truman's credit that he remained true to his convictions, not his political friends.

There is one phase of the tidelands oil pressure group that bears especial attention. It is the fact that exactly the same gang which overcharged the U. S. Navy for Arabian oil, which finagled loan loans from the U. S. treasury for King Ibn Saud of Arabia, and which lobbied to kill the partition of Palestine, is now pulling wires to turn the rich tidelands oil reserve over to the coastal states—with considerable benefit to the oil companies.

In other words, Standard Oil of California and the Texas Oil company, backed by the Guaranty Trust company and various big bankers, are the real people to watch both in regard to the Arab lobby and tidelands oil. They go hand in hand.

Note—It's significant that the Wall Street firm of James V. Forrestal, now the most potent man in the cabinet, once handled the finances of Arab-American oil interests. Forrestal is the man who persuaded Truman to kill the partition of Palestine, thus leaving the United Nations and the Near East with about the worst international mess since the war ended.

TAFT'S OHIO

One thing you have to remember about Senator Taft and the important Taft-Stassen primary today, is that Taft policies haven't been too popular in the senator's home state. There is respect for the Taft courage and the Taft family, but no great love for Taft policies. For instance:

While a Republican Congress, led by Taft, was cutting the federal budget to ribbons, the state of Ohio, also led by Republicans, was doing just the opposite. In 1947-48, the overwhelmingly controlled Republican Ohio legislature, and the Republican governor of Ohio increased the state budget 47 per cent over Ohio's 1945-46 expenditures under Democratic Governor Frank Lausche.

Yet, in the Senate, Taft has been one of the most efficient leaders for a contrary policy.

SENATOR THOMAS'S SPECULATORS
One of the most interesting figures among the unique assortment of characters who had the run of Oklahoma Senator Thomas's office at the height of his speculating days was Robert M. Harris of the Harris & Vose brokerage firm.

It was Bob Harris who handled Father Coughlin's deals when he was speculating in silver and who also handled the cotton operations of Mrs. Elmer Thomas, the senator's wife.

Snuggling close to both Senator Thomas and Robert Harris have been two state agricultural commissioners, A. E. MacDonald of Texas and Tom Linder of Georgia. Harris has worked with both men on various cotton deals.

The way Senator Thomas's office has been used is somewhat like this:

When the senator from Oklahoma blasted proposals to control prices, naturally prices rose. When Thomas forecast good crops, prices dropped. When the senator made a speech on the proposed policy of the department of agriculture, the market reacted. Advance knowledge of the senator's speeches naturally meant a windfall to men like Harris. He could buy or sell cotton just before one of the senator's speeches.

Agricultural Commissioners MacDonald and Linder of Texas and Georgia were also important in this respect. They are artists at making angry protests against farm legislation. These protests sometimes influence the commodity market.

Bob Harris has been so successful on the market that he has built up a beautiful estate on Long Island reputedly worth a million dollars. The estate is called Barcolor.

Visiting him on this estate last summer were none other than Texas Commissioner MacDonald and his wife. They were on a vacation trip to Canada. Before they left, MacDonald's good friend, Broker Harris, went into Southampton along with MacDonald, and they bought a shiny new DeSoto for MacDonald's vacation trip.

Senior Class Play, "Dear Ruth"
At Auditorium Wednesday Night

"Dear Ruth" will be behind the footlights tomorrow night at 8:30 at the William W. Oliver auditorium as the seniors of Escanaba high school present their annual class play.

The one night performance of Norman Krasna's romantic comedy hit is already slated to draw a capacity crowd. Seniors have been selling regular tickets for over a week. However, these tickets must be reserved at the senior high, at no further charge to assure the holders of seats.

With the reputation of the stage play, which took Broadway by storm, and the movie, to live up to, the members of the cast have been working since Easter to be able to present understandingly the troubles of the Wilkins family. Of course, the Wilkins have one daughter, the Ruth of "Dear Ruth," who has a surplus of brains, looks, personality and efficiency. However, Ruth, played by Marion Birkenmeier, is so used to manless wartime that she's all set to marry 4-F Albert Kummer. Albert, who Carl Nelson portrays, is a pompous Babbitt-like bank executive who just isn't worthy of Ruth.

"Helpful" Mariam However, impulsive, but charming Lieutenant William Seawright shows up, just back from overseas and head over heels in love with Ruth. Dick Lough, as Bill, has fallen in love via the V-mail routes. Ruth has never heard of him but Miriam, the Wilkins' younger daughter, has. Miriam "a member of the younger generation," played by Billie Ann Daniels, wrote the letters and signed Ruth's name as one of her many and terrifically varied ways of personally winning the war.

Looking on as the confusion mounts, wanting to help but not sure what to do, are Henry and Edith Wilkins. David Walch takes the part of the father and Barbara Duchaine handles the mother's role.

Adding to the romantic complications, Bill's pal, Sergeant Chuck Vincent, John Van Enkevort, accidentally runs into Bill's sister Martha, his former fiancée, who is played by Eunice Holmes. Joyce Elliott provides a comedy change as Dora, the colored maid. In a surprise twist Gerald St. Martin, as Harold Klobbermeyer, adds a final snarl as things finally seem unraveled.

Production Crew

Director of the play is Bertrand Henne. Miss Mary Vaughan has assisted the committees with Miss Kraustover helping with art work and scenery painting. Other members of the class who helped the production are:

Stage Crew: Jack Edick, manager, Richard Wohlen, Gust Anderson.

Electrician's Crew: Dick Cleerman, chief, Bill Perron, Gerald St. Martin.

Harry Farberman Is High Ranking American Artist

Harry Farberman, conductor and arranger for the Farberman Sinfonietta to be heard here in concert Thursday night under the auspices of Town Hall, ranks high on the list of American-born, American-educated concert artists and conductors.

He was born in Cincinnati and was educated in Detroit. He received his first violin lessons at the age of five, from his father, a gifted violinist. Later Farberman became a student of Hildegarde Brandegee, a pupil of the famed Leopold Auer.

On the advice of Mischa Elman, on one of his visits to Detroit, Farberman's parents took him to New York where he played for Leopold Auer and was accepted as one of his students. During this period, says Conductor Farberman, Alexander Bloch, was an important factor in his musical development.

In 1923, after four years of study and development, Farberman made his debut in South America. At that time, says Farberman, artists rarely visited in South America and native reviewers were often bemused to think North America could produce something besides automobiles and machines.

After his Latin American success, Farberman appeared with the Detroit Symphony orchestra under Ossip Gabrilowitsch as guest soloist. He then toured Europe and returned for his Town Hall debut in New York.

During his association with Alfred Wallenstein, Farberman met his wife, the renowned Edith Schiller, who appears as piano soloist with the Sinfonietta.

The concert here will be presented in William Oliver auditorium under the auspices of Es-

C&NW PIONEER GROUP NAMED

Will Cooperate With Swedish Committee

A Chicago and North Western Railway Centennial committee has been appointed to cooperate with the Swedish Pioneer Centennial committee in the staging of the Upper Peninsula celebration in Escanaba on June 15.

I. J. Barber, general agent of the Chicago and North Western Railway at Escanaba, is chairman of the C. & N. W. committee. Other members are: T. M. Cassidy, B. M. Howe, B. G. Packard, J. J. Bulger, C. C. Robinson, J. F. Bartlett, M. J. Tonkin, H. D. Wade, H. L. Holderman, C. G. Friets, G. W. Walters, C. T. Weir, William Flynn, G. M. Anderson, R. G. Moras, Lee McMillan, M. E. Swanson, Victor Nelson, Gabriel Bostrom, John A. Lemmer, Ken Gunderman, George Lindenthal and Juel Lee.

The Chicago and North Western Railway's eight-car Centennial Train, described as "one of the most unique traveling railroad exhibits ever assembled," has pulled out of Chicago on its 10,000-mile tour to 58 cities in eight states.

The train's first stop was at Rockford, Ill., on Sunday. After 60 days on tour, it will return to Chicago in time to be an outstanding feature of the Chicago Railroad Fair which opens July 20. The Pioneer Centennial train will be in Escanaba on June 15.

Most of the cities visited by the gaily-painted train during its tour plan parades which will be led by 60-foot replicas of the North Western's first and latest trains—the "Pioneer" and its original coach and a "400" streamliner. A number of communities are staging Centennial Beauty Queen and "Pioneer" model-building contests, with prizes to be awarded when the train arrives. Arrangements for the contests have been made by civic committees headed by North Western employees.

The original "Pioneer" locomotive, which will run under its own steam at the Fair after 70 years of inactivity, will be the main feature of the colorful train. The diminutive log-burner, however, will remain on a flat car during the tour and will rest on rails and a roadbed carefully duplicating the "strap rail" used in 1848.

An outstanding feature of the Centennial Train is the Museum Car which is filled with historical exhibits that trace the development of the Midwest and its railroads during the last 100 years. The most highly valued item in the Museum Car is the original chair used by William Butler Ogden, who was first mayor of Chicago and first president of the North Western Railway.

North Western officials estimated the Centennial Train will be viewed by nearly 2,000,000 people during its tour.

Weather predictions can be made 25 per cent more accurately by use of the seismograph, the instrument scientists use for recording earthquakes.

Overhead passenger cars, running suspended from a single track, have been proposed as a solution for street traffic congestion in large cities.

DAIRYMEN! HOW DOES A COW'S UDDER Manufacture Milk?

Hold it up?
Let it down?

At: OGONTZ GRANGE HALL ENSIGN, MICHIGAN

MAY 24, at 7:30 p. m.

you will have an opportunity to see the remarkable moving picture directed by Dr. W. E. Petersen, University of Minnesota, that answers these questions that have puzzled the minds of dairymen throughout all the 6,000 years that cows have been milked.

But that isn't all.

Dr. Petersen, in his picture, outlines what to do to get the most from a cow when milking her. He explains how to avoid Mastitis.

Every progressive dairyman should see this picture and get this information.

In addition, there will be pictures and a discussion of the milking stall—lounge barn system of handling cows that is gaining headway in all parts of the country.

The admission is free. You, your family and your friends are cordially invited to attend.

TELEVISION TO CHANGE SPORT

Many Folks Will Stay Home To Watch Game

By Robert C. Ruark
New York — When the New York prizefight managers put in a yelp for a cut of the television rights to prize fights, they touched off a trend. It won't be long before the ballplayers are doing it, too. It is not so much an instance of greed as an indication that the sports people—and other entertainment people, also—are beginning to wonder if they aren't waving an ax at a golden goose. If the goose is going to die, they want a piece of the carcass, right now.

The sports business, and the movie business, and the gamblers' business, are founded on a simple truth. None of them is worth a dime without paying customers. To breed customers, you must breed fans—baseball fans, Ann Sheridan fans, floor show fans. Fans are bred by luring them to your place of business until they form the habit.

Since television has emerged from the awkward-child stage, as the screens get bigger, the images unfuzz and the shows improve, it packs a potential for qualitatively surpassing the event it photographs and talks about. Only about 9000 fans turned out the other day to watch the Dodgers play, in the first week of the season. The slim gate was a combination of raw weather—and television; jacked-up admission prices—and television; unpleasant transportation—and television.

With the newspapers, the newsreels and the radio, the promoters never had any direct competition. The papers told about the event in the past tense. The fight pictures were held up until long after the battle, and only scraps of ball games and horse races were filmed. The radio told you what was going on simultaneously with the event, but it was unsatisfactory description.

But here's your television giving you a ringside seat which the ordinary guy can't afford or acquire, and it's free. You're right on the horse's back with the jockey, and you're out there at second base for the close play; right on top of the catcher at the plate.

You've got music and drama and dancing and sports on the television screen, and it costs you not a dime, after you buy the set. If you don't own the machine, you can step into any bar and see the world series for the price of three beers.

Being a sports fan is hard work. You've got to fight crowds and battle jammed subways and compete for space in overloaded hotels. You play sucker for scalpers and are at the mercy of the promoter or clubowner when he raises prices on you. You sit and snifle in the cold to watch football, take sleeper jumps to get to race tracks, and occasionally broil to see baseball.

I think the average, non-rabid, fan is as lazy as I am. If you can fetch a reasonable approximation of what he wants to see into his home or favorite bar, he is just lazy enough to pass the freshly event for its pictorial equivalent.

Television Is Easier
The televised version of a prize fight is generally a much better deal than a few rows back from the actual ring. At prize fights, anytime something dramatic happens, a guy the size of Man Mountain Dean lurches up and shuts off the view. By the time you get on your feet, the referee is tolling 10 and the victim might just as well have been laid low by lightning, for all you saw of the deed.

As a guy who always arrives at football games one minute after Bronko Rappaport dashes 99 yards for a touchdown, I would rather stay home and get in on the kickoff. If the young men are just shoving each other around in the mud, or it's blizzarding, you merely twist the dial to something more entertaining. The borsome time-out periods you can dodge by getting up to pour another beer.

It seems entirely likely, to me, that a decade of feeding television to the sports fan will breed up a brand-new kind of customer: the lazy lad who refuses to make the expensive pilgrimage to the scene when he can see it a lot more comfortably and clearly from his easy chair. That day will leave big mangy spots in stadiums and horse parks and arenas, and eat great big holes in promoters' revenue. There could be a time when the stands are as empty as an autograph hound's head and the gladiators are out there sweating in seclusion, for the benefit of the unseen audience. In that case, you've got a brand-new concept of sport, with Yankee stadium renamed Yankee studio, and Army playing Navy in a large laboratory, full of sound technicians and hot lights.

Life on earth began in the ocean, and man's blood contains the same mineral salts found in the sea.

The caloric content of the per-capita American diet remained fairly constant from 1920 to 1941.

PAIR 'DUNKED' FISHING PERCH

Schoolmen's Boat Tips Off Garden Shore

Sup't Wallace Cameron and Harold "Pop" Enders, manual training instructor at Gladstone high school, have been the recipients of old life preservers, inner tubes and a wealth of suggestions and "tips".

It seems that over the weekend the two went fishing to get some of the tasty perch which come in to the waters of Bay de Noquet in the vicinity of Garden in huge numbers at this time each year.

They obtained a boat and went out to where the perch were many and of good size. They had obtained the first fifty and were working on the second when one caught underneath the boat, Cameron reached for it, and in a twinkling of the eye both were overboard.

The fishing tackle went to the bottom, 14 feet beneath the surface, the fish floated, giving the seagulls a field day and Cameron and Enders had a few anxious moments.

However, they were able to hang onto the boat which supported them until Fred Olmsted of Garden arrived on the scene with a power boat and rescued them.

Testimony in court disclosed that he borrowed the auto from Al Jardin, city, to use for a short time that evening and failed to return it. He was arrested by Michigan State Police Sunday. Police said that during the time he had the auto he visited Nahma and Trenary in company of a female companion.

While he was in court the long memory of the law came into evidence and a couple of old traffic tickets which Beaudry had failed to honor were disposed of. On one, that of having no operator's license, he was fined $2.00 while on another, that of driving an auto with defective brakes, he was fined $4 and assessed costs of $1.00.

All ex-servicemen are requested to make special efforts to attend the rites for their comrade. They are also urged to meet at the Legion cottage at 8:30 Thursday morning and leave at an appointed time for the Soo depot to meet the train when it arrives.

The Judge Liked
Their Music But Not Their Deed

"Music hath charm to soothe the savage bears," but it had no effect upon the venerable music loving Judge W. G. Stephens when two Mexican transients, about of the law sought to lighten the weight of justice hanging over their heads by singing haunting Mexican melodies accompanied by guitar music. The judge, however, let them finish their concert and then pronounced sentence of thirty days in the county jail for each one.

The men, who gave their names as Robert Garcia and Sabos Torrons, and their address as Moorhead, Minn., and their occupation as beet field workers, were caught Monday morning by Jack Lewitt, former sheriff, in the act of stealing gasoline at his farm eight miles east of town. Taken in tow by state police, and brought before Judge Stephens, they readily admitted their guilt. It was during the interval of their appearance and passage of sentence while the judge was busily writing the formalities embodying their offense, that one strummed lightly on the guitar and the two sang plaintively about "Manyana" hot tamales and "Cookoor Oochies".

State police are also investigating the true ownership of the car in which they were riding as that matter is still under a cloud.

Dear Editor:

I object to people throwing beer bottles on our front lawn. Is there anything that can be done to stop this untidy habit? If people want to drink let them keep their bottles to themselves.

Sincerely yours,

3 FOREST FIRES
OVER WEEKENDOne Near Thompson
Burns 30 Acres

Walter Wilson, of the U. S. Forest Service office here reports that his department was called upon to fight forest fires in three widely scattered areas, over the week end.

A slashing area in the Thompson area, covering about thirty acres was the first trouble to need attention. Although the area was large the damage was not regarded as serious.

The other two fires were in the Silver Creek and the Thunder Lake vicinity. In each case the fires covered areas of about two acres in extent. In one case the fire was caused by some greens pickers and the other was caused by a cigarette butt carelessly thrown along the roadside, presumably from a car.

Fire risk in most forest areas in these parts is at a dangerous high, Wilson states.

Paper Mill Nite Owls Move Into 1st In U. P. Bowling Booster Class

Another Paper Mill league team, the Nite Owls, roared into first place in the booster division of the 38th annual Upper Peninsula bowling tournament at Marquette Sunday evening by smashing a powerful 2552 set on games of 786-918-848.

Steve "Gus" Maycunich found the Shoreland lanes perfect for his sweeping curve ball and as leadoff man carried the Owls to their triumph with a 614 set garnered on games of 180-208-226. Other members of the team were loud in their praise of Gus while he himself credited their success to Frank Ombrello and his Cav's Crystal Bar team of Iron Mountain who rolled opposite the Nite Owls.

Although failing to mould any creditable scores of their own, this fine group of sportsmen were responsible for spurring Capt Bert Goodreau's five by their referee antics which prevented the locals from faltering under the mounting pressure. The Nite Owls are anxiously awaiting the close of the U. P. tourney on May 9 and are hoping that their 2552 will remain on top to gain them that $100 prize.

Team scores:

S. Maycunich 180 208 226—614
Harvey Gardner 169 156 135—460
Gun, Hornblad 130 202 172—504
Bert Goodreau 156 154 158—468
Rob. Smithwick 151 178 157—506

Gladstone's Marble Arms is in third place in the booster division with a 2490 tally. While the Nite Owls were leading their 2552, other Escanaba booster teams rolled as follows: Y-Tavern 2195, Powerhouse 2314, Papermakers 1899, Northern Motor Builders 2029 and the Finishers 2329.

He is in third place behind Joe Wilman of Chicago and Andy Variappa of Brooklyn in the 10-year individual ratings.

Changes In City Bowling Standings

Competition was resumed last evening in the eighth annual Escanaba bowling tournament as Walter Van DeWeghe and Clyde Van Enkevort rose to the select the first five group in the singles event with 664 and 642 respectively.

Van's big set which netted him the number three slot resulted from consistently good games of 197-211-211 plus a 45 pin handicap. Clyde's 642 was fashioned from 159-148-191 plus 144 gratis pins.

Elks club bowlers dominated the weekend doubles play as the Francis Costley-Lawrence Beauchamp team with 530-550 rose to a second place tie with 1266 aided by 186 pins handicap. Ray Wahiowski and Eddie Gravelle rolled the identical total last week. Vince Myers and "Wink" Curtis with 1252 ascended the number four rung with a 619 and 474 bid sweetened with a 159 pin handicap. Vince equaled Walter Van DeWeghe for the top set thus far with 211-190-216.

At the close of the evening lunch was served by the following committee, chairman, Mrs. Ed. Tobin, Mrs. Nick Commendini, Mrs. Homer Beauchamp, Mrs. Nels Plude, Mrs. William Mercier, Mrs. Harry DeRosier, Mrs. Emil LeBrasseur, Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. Fred Olmsted, Mrs. Henry Sargent, Mrs. Joe Labodie, Mrs. Marshall Beauchamp and Miss Mary Krutina.

Louisville AA Club Having Its Trouble

(By The Associated Press)
Louisville, perennial powerhouse in the American Association, is finding it difficult to get going so far this season.

The Colonels, with the youngest pitching staff in the league, suffered their sixth defeat in seven road starts yesterday by being mauled 11-2 by Milwaukee. Yesterday's only other scheduled game, Columbus at Kansas City, was postponed by cold weather.

Ann Arbor, May 4 (AP)—University of Michigan won a seven-man golf tournament 23-7 yesterday from Michigan State. Michigan's Roger Kessler came in with a one-under-par 72 to register a blow score.

"It Seems To Me"

Two Delta county athletes competed against each other in the Marquette university-Western Michigan college dual track meet last Saturday . . . George LeBrasseur, of Nahma, opposed Bob Pfotenbauer, of Escanaba, in the shot put, with George beating him out for the second time this season . . . The Nahma all-around athlete won with a toss of 42 feet eight inches.

You'll find a lot of familiar names in the University of Michigan baseball lineup . . . Ever hear of Bob Chappuis, Chalmers "Bump" Elliott and Jack Weisenburger? . . . They figured prominently in Michigan's recent 3-2 win over Ohio State which put the Wolverines on top of the Big Nine heap . . . Michigan is going after the baseball crown with the same fervor the Wolverines copped the Big Nine football, basketball and swimming championships . . . What a year for the Wolverines! . . . Watch the U-M trackmen go this season, too!

Ray Hirn, who went to the quarterfinals of the U. P. Golf association championship tournament at Menominee last season, is the No. 1 man on the Escanaba high school team this season . . . They're getting ready for the U. P. prep tourney at Crystal Falls Thursday, May 27 . . . A dual meet with Gladstone and one with Menominee will be played before the championship event . . . Harold VanEffen, Dale Jackson and Bill Ness round out the first Eskymo golf quartet . . . Others on the team are Wayne Peterson, Bill Elliott, Jim Jepson and Ken VanEffen.

Here's one for the books: When Joe Crispignia and Bill Le-Clair, of Iron Mountain, stepped up to bowl in the U. P. tournament doubles, they each cracked out a 541 . . . Then they stepped up to bowl their singles . . . They each hit 515 . . . "Never saw anything like it before anywhere," mused Gene Longtime, manager of the U. P. tourney in Marquette.

The U. P. winter sports council will hold its next meeting in Negaunee this Saturday . . . Fred Siebert, Gladstone, is vice president of the organization . . . Several enthusiasts from Escanaba and Gladstone are expected to attend the session.

Certainly wish we had the space to satisfy all the demands for daily publication of all major league baseball box scores, but we just haven't got the room . . . And at present we are receiving only the Detroit Tiger daily box score . . . We have put in a request, however, for a National league box score daily and, at least every now and then, a box score other than the Tiger tally . . . We fully realize that all baseball fans in this vicinity are not Tiger fans.

Earl Sande Arraigned On Narcotics Charge

New York, May 4 (AP)—Earl Sande, the famous jockey for the '20s and early '30s who now owns and trains his own horses, faced federal grand jury action today on a charge of illegal possession of narcotics.

The charge was made, U. S. Attorney J. Vincent Keogh said, after one of Sande's horses was found to have been drugged when it won a race at Jamaica April 21.

Sande, 49 years old, was arraigned yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Edward E. Fay. He waived examination and was released without bail.

Meanwhile, stewards of the Jockey club were scheduled to meet today to study the case.

Specifically, the former jockey is accused of failing to register the fact he possessed morphine, and to pay a special tax on it.

Conviction calls for a penalty of two to five years in prison.

In 11 years of riding, Sande won $2,642,252 for various owners and brought home close to 700 winners.

He scored three Kentucky Derby victories—on Zev in 1923, on Flying Ebony in 1925 and on Gallant Fox in 1930.

Marquette High '9' Tips Ishpeming, 8-2

Ishpeming, May 4—With Richard "Red" Krieg hurling two-hit ball, the Marquette high school nine defeated Ishpeming, 8-2, in their opening game in the Central U. P. High School Baseball conference here Saturday.

George Kelly, Gravelle third-sacker, paced the Redmen with a double and single in four times at bat. Ishpeming committed nine errors.

Guy Lombardo Plans New Speedboat Try

Desert Beach, Calif., May 4 (AP)—Bandleader Guy Lombardo plans another attempt at breaking the American speed boat record next fall.

He disclosed his plans after failing in three tries yesterday to crack the American standard of 124.915 miles an hour set in 1932 by Gar Wood.

Lombardo registered top speed of 119.601 on one lap of his third trial run in his $100,000 boat Tempo VI. He averaged 117.845 on his first run over the measured mile on Salton Sea.

Lombardo said he plans to enter the Gold Cup race this summer in an effort to repeat his 1946 triumph.

SEEKS 60th WIN

Albany, N. Y., May 4 (AP)—Jack Kramer will seek his 60th triumph against Bobby Riggs tonight in the 79th duel of their cross-country professional tennis tour. Kramer, 1947 world amateur champion, disposed of Riggs, 6-2, 6-2, last night at Syracuse.

Owners Ponder Whether To Pit Charges Against Citation In Preakness

New York, May 4 (AP)—Those owners whose horses ducked Citation and Coaltown in the Kentucky Derby to await the Preakness and Belmont stakes have found little room for comfort the last few days.

This seems to be the general attitude:

"If My Request was the stand-out derby threat of the east and couldn't get close to Citation and Coaltown, how are our stay-at-homes going to fare against the Calumet one-two punch?"

The Preakness is two Saturdays away and the Belmont is slated June 12. That gives owners of rival three-year-olds plenty of time to decide.

Ben Whitaker's My Request, the Wood Memorial hero who was unbeaten this year until he ran up against the Calumet twins at Louisville, is expected to try again.

C. V. Whitney's Mount Marcy, a comparatively new development, is another likely challenger. Trainer S. E. Veitch has been pointing Mount Marcy, second in the Wood and an impressive victor at Jamaica Saturday, for the Baltimore special.

As for the Better Sells, Gasparillas, Salmagundis, River Lanes, Big Dials, etc., the prospect of facing Citation and Coaltown is a rather frightening thing.

The Belmont, of course, is a longer race—a mile and a half.

It affords a horse of the plodder type—like Jacobson and Hart's Big Dial—a chance.

But Big Dial found Citation more than he could handle in the Flamingo stakes at Hialeah last winter.

Musial Off To Big Start At .383 Clip

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer
This may be Stan Musial's greatest year since he came up to the major leagues with the St. Louis Cardinals near the end of the 1941 season.

In his first 11 games, the 27-year-old native of Donora, Pa., has built up a robust .383 batting average. But that is not the entire story.

Stan's 18 hits include four doubles, three triples and two home runs. All figures are high up among the leaders. He has driven in 14 runs, almost one-third of the Cardinals' total.

Flint Tops Dayton To Take Over First In Central League

(By The Associated Press)
Flint's Arrows shot to the top of the Central Baseball league standings last night with a close 7 to 6 victory over Dayton.

The Arrows pushed past the Grand Rapids Jets who dropped a 2 to 1 decision to Saginaw and the Fort Wayne Generals, vanquished 5 to 2 by the Muskegon Clippers.

Grand Rapids and Fort Wayne had been tied for the league leadership and now are deadlocked in second place with three victories and two defeats each. Flint has won four and lost two.

A doubleheader between the Generals and Clippers at Fort Wayne features tonight's schedule. Flint again takes on Dayton, and Grand Rapids will try for revenge on the Saginaw Bears.

Baseball Stars Of Yesterday

Batting
Jack Lohrke, Giants—collected three hits in four times at bat to lead the Giants to a 5-0 victory over Cincinnati.

Pitching
Dave Koslo, Giants—shut out the Cincinnati Reds 5-0 on four hits. He fanned five and walked only one.

TITAN TRACKMEN WIN
Hillsdale, Mich., May 4 (AP)—Paced by Don Nufer and Walter Gruber, University of Detroit trackmen won an easy 74 to 57 victory over Hillsdale in an outdoor dual meet yesterday.

The Titans garnered nine first places, with Nufer and Gruber providing two each.

Nationwide Airlines Plans To Extend Its Service To Marquette

Nationwide Airlines, Inc., which inaugurated daily passenger service last fall to Escanaba, Menominee, Iron Mountain and Houghton, connecting the Upper Peninsula with Detroit and Lansing, applied in Lansing today for permission to extend its service to Marquette.

Under the proposed plan, discussed at a meeting with the Chamber of Commerce in Marquette yesterday afternoon, Nationwide would provide feeder service between Marquette and Escanaba, tying up with the regular flights between here and Lower Michigan.

At present Nationwide is flying into Escanaba thrice weekly, and it is planned to revert to daily service in the near future.

NO COMMUNIST, WALLACE SAYS

Candidate Raps Hecklers At Columbia, Mo.

Columbia, Mo., May 4 (AP)—Henry Wallace, in a speech interrupted by shouts and occasional boos, told an audience of 5,000 yesterday he was not a Communist and accused his hecklers of being "Third Travelers."

The Third Party presidential candidate spoke on the county courthouse lawn to a crowd that included many college students. The University of Missouri, Stephens College and Christian College are located here.

Hecklers shouted and sang, "I Don't Want Him, You Can Have Him, He's Too Red For Me." There also were cries of "We want Wallace."

Wallace said: "I propose to have you show me that the people still believe in the right to be heard. I am calling on you people to exercise the right of free Americans to free assembly and the right to speak."

Declaring that civil rights in the United States are in danger, he said, "If we do not practice democracy here regardless of race, we cannot have any influence in the rest of the world. Now let me hear you make a crack about that."

No response came from the audience.

Wallace said it had been suggested that he is a Communist and added, "It happens that I am not."

MILITARY DRAFT BILL REVAMPED

Calls For Dentists And Doctors Restricted

Washington, May 4 (AP)—Senators working on draft legislation agreed today to restrict calls of doctors and dentists into the armed services.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) told reporters after a closed-door meeting of the Senate Armed Services committee that problems of limiting the draft of medical men are delaying final action on the measure.

He said the members are agreed there must be restrictions. "All medical men cannot be taken from one community and leave civilians without any protection," Gurney said.

The committee is working on a bill that would (1) Authorize a temporary draft of men 19 through 25 years for two years service in the armed service, (2) Provide a one-year training program for some 160,000 18-year olds with the regular armed forces.

The House Armed Services committee turned out a straight two-year draft bill yesterday. Speaker Martin (R-Mass) said the House should act soon and added:

"I don't see any reason now why it will not pass."

Gurney said it will be necessary to have a special registration for doctors.

The Senate bill calls for registration of men 18 through 25 but would allow drafting of doctors and dentists under age 46.

The Senate committee agreed also, Gurney said, to a revision of a ban against overseas service by the 18-year-olds called for one year training.

"The navy has to take them out on the ocean on ships to train them," he said, adding that the revision probably will let the navy, army and air forces train teen agers in territories and possessions of the United States and adjacent islands and waters.

Crash in Germany Destroys $300,000 U. S. Plane; 1 Dead

Fuerstenfeldbruck, Germany, May 4 (AP)—An American B-29 crashed here shortly before midnight last night, killing one crew member and injuring two others. Nine other U. S. airmen aboard escaped injury. The $300,000 plane burst into flames and was destroyed.

The ship was part of a squadron taking off for a training flight in the Mediterranean area. The accident occurred about a mile and a half from the takeoff point. The other ships continued on their way.

Prompt action by base crash crews was credited with saving most of the big plane's complement. They were at the scene less than two minutes after the crash, pulling men out of the flames.

There was no immediate explanation as to the cause of the crash. Field officers said men in other planes reported seeing the Superfortress suddenly dive and make a grinding belly landing.

It was one of 26 B-29s which arrived here April 15 for training missions. Two of three squadrons have returned to the United States. The third is tentatively scheduled to return about the middle of this month to Smoky Hill, Kansas, field, where the bombers are based.

ARAB ARMIES HOLD UP PUSH IN HOLY LAND

all air operations virtually have ceased.

Jewish military sources said Arab artillery shelled two Jewish settlements north of Jerusalem in the night.

The informants said 30 shells landed in the area of Neve Yacov and Atarot. Both settlements are on the highway between Jerusalem and Ramallah. They said there were no casualties and little damage.

Jerusalem was quiet during the night, although scattered firing was heard this morning in Mekor Haim. This is inside the area where British forces are enforcing a Jew-Arab truce.

Most of the Holy City was without light or power during the night, after a power station breakdown. It was only partially repaired by mid-morning.

Invasion Warned
Eye witnesses said Arab forces were forming in the southern hills for a massed attack on the Jewish settlement of Kfar Etzion.

The Arabs had a warning today from Lt. Gen. Gordon MacMillan that Britain will resist "with full force" any Arab invasion of Palestine before the British mandate ends May 15.

The British commander made the statement yesterday to Maj. George Fielding Elliot, military analyst for the New York Post and Home News, even as the vanguard of strong British reinforcements began arriving in Jerusalem.

Arab sources in Amman, Trans-Jordan, hinted that it is unlikely the Arab states will launch any open invasion of Palestine before the mandate ends.

This was in sharp contrast to previous statements from Amman.

Arab military experts say the Arab armies are not well enough equipped to risk a clash with the British.
